"NEW YORK DOESN'T WANT THAW, BUT IS BOUND TO HOLD HIM," SAYS JEROME

"His Very Riches Make It Necessary to Fight His Freedom," Declares Prosecutor in Canada.

(Special from a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)
SHERBROOKE, Ontario, Aug. 26.—William Travers Jerome, the ex-District Attorney who tried Thaw twice for Stanford White's murder and finally sent him to the asylum for the criminal insane, made this declaration this afternoon:

"In these times of socialistic tendencies, Thaw's continued freedom would be a real menace. Already you hear it said that Thaw's money, the Thaw millions, were responsible for his escape and that they will suffice to keep him free. 'A rich man can do anything, what chance would a poor man have?' is a phrase you hear constantly in connection with Thaw. It is up to New York State to show the world that rich or poor, a criminal stands the same in the eyes of the law."

"What do you suppose New York State wants with Thaw, a degenerate and an insane man? Why, I have exhibits here with me now that must convince any one who sees them of one of two things: either Thaw is insane and therefore undesirable, or else he is sane and consequently even less to be desired here."

THAW'S RICHES KEEP HIM IN PRISON.
"We would let Canada keep Thaw if we could. We would have thrown open the doors of Mattawan long since had we not realized that Thaw must not be permitted to pose before the public as a man whose money has saved him from punishment a poorer man would have suffered."

"We don't want Thaw per se, but ethically, we are bound to do our utmost to get him. I would never do in these socialistic times to allow the hue and cry to be raised that money had liberated him."

"He has been posing up here as a martyr. The Canadian people think of him as a sufferer who is being persecuted by a great State. I wish I could let the Canadian people know that Thaw is not being persecuted, that we were driven of necessity to carry him back, and that we want him just as little as he wants to come. That is what Canada should know and I hope I'll be able to find the means to tell it."

Thaw's many lawyers, fearful lest he hurt his case with the erratic conduct of his self-planned press campaign, shut him off from all interviews to-day. They obtained from the Sheriff an order to the Governor of Sherbrooke jail to the effect that no one should see Thaw except in the presence of some one of his counsel.

The order serves two purposes. First, it prevents Thaw from giving out more rambling interviews, except surreptitiously, by messengers; second, it would circumvent any secret attempt to obtain from him a statement in which he might inadvertently reveal something about the plot resulting in his release from Mattawan.

Gov. Laforce put the orders into effect promptly. He had been worried almost all since Thaw came under his charge, and it is a great relief to him to have visitors barred.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Prof. Mathewson took the assignment of pitching to the Reds this afternoon and his teammates started out with a lot of confidence. The Cincinnati club has beaten the old master but twice in five years. Against him was Johnson, the Red Skin. To give the proceedings an added spice of life Secretary Foster gave 500 schoolboys a treat. Doyle was still out with a bad foot, and Shaffer played second, while Herzog went to third. Six thousand fans saw the battle. Pitcher Bunny Hoare, recently purchased from Toronto, reported to-day and took a seat on the bench. Bunny is the young fellow that pitched the twenty-inning tie against Jersey City.

FIRST INNING.—Bescher easily beat out an infield hit over second. Bates flied out to Snodgrass. Bescher then died ataling second, McLean to Shaffer. Groh drove a long single to right. Marsans drove a long fly to Snodgrass in deep center. No Run. One left.

Dodge threw out Burns. Shaffer beat out a slow hit to Groh. Shaffer then stole second, Kling to Tinker. Fletcher cut a base on balls. Herzog forced out Fletcher. Dodge to Groh. No Run. One left.

SECOND INNING.—Matty got Hobbs' bunt and tossed him out. Tinker singled past third. Dodge flied out to Burns. Kling lined out to Burns. No Run. One left.

MRS. HARRY THAW TELLS OF $15,000 SHE DIDN'T GET

Contract With Husband's Mother Called for $1,000 a Month for Life.

THREE CHECKS UNPAID.

Agreed to Sue for Annulment of Marriage to Slayer of White.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw to-day declared at a bankruptcy hearing held before Referee Stanley W. Dexter, No. 71 Broadway, that Mrs. Copley Thaw, mother of Harry Thaw, entered into a contract with her some time during the years 1907 or 1908—the exact time she was unable to state—to the effect that, providing the actress-wife entered into an action for the annulment of her marriage with Thaw, Evelyn was to receive $5,000 in cash and monthly payments of $1,000 each for the rest of her life.

This testimony came out during the course of an examination conducted by Julius Offenbach, an attorney representing the Gorham Company, one of the principal creditors in the Evelyn Nesbit Thaw bankruptcy matter.

Mrs. Harry Thaw appeared before Referee Dexter shortly before 11 o'clock, accompanied by her attorneys, John Reilly and Maurice L. Shalitz. At this point both the witness and the attorney became quite angry, and Referee Dexter had to warn both to keep their temper.

"What became of it?" the funds which Mr. Thaw has provided you with?" was asked the witness.

"Why, I just lived on them," remarked the witness indignantly.

Attorney Offenbach asked the witness if she had entered into a contract with Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry Thaw.

"Yes, I did enter into such a contract with Mrs. Thaw, which made provisions for me for the rest of my life," replied the witness.

"What year was it that you made such a contract?"

"I cannot exactly say—maybe 1907 or 1908—I can't tell just the time."

"Tell us in substance," said Attorney Offenbach, "what this contract was for."

"This contract provided for an income for life of $5,000 monthly and $5,000 in cash provided the witness and the attorney became quite angry, and Referee Dexter had to warn both to keep their temper."

RECEIVED THREE CHECKS OF $5,000 EACH.

"Yes," smilingly replied the young actress. She explained that at the time this contract was made three checks for $5,000 each were turned over to her.

LIND LEAVES MEXICO CITY, MANY AMERICANS WITH HIM; 24 HOURS' DELAY FOR HUERTA

Wilson Puts Off Until To-Morrow Reading of Congress Message on Plea of Mexican President for Time to Study Proposals.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The State Department has received a despatch stating that John Lind, President Wilson's special envoy to President Huerta of Mexico, left Mexico City for Vera Cruz to-day and that scores of Americans fled for the coast on the same train that carried Mr. Lind. At Vera Cruz Americans are under the protection of United States warships.

It is stated that Mr. Lind was not recalled. He left Mexico City of his own volition and the Administration professes to believe that he will return for further conferences with President Huerta in case it is agreed such are to be held.

Mr. Lind was accompanied from Mexico City to Vera Cruz by Luis d'Amint, an attaché of the American Embassy. So far as is known, he was not accompanied by any representative of the Huerta Government. Reports that Mr. Lind is to sail for the United States from Vera Cruz on a warship cannot be confirmed here.

The fact that many Americans left Mexico City on the train with Mr. Lind indicates that there is fear in the Mexican capital of an outbreak following the possible reading of President Wilson's message in Congress to-morrow. The President to-day delayed for twenty-four hours the delivery of his message to Congress at the combined request of Mr. Lind and Senator Gamboa, Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs. Eleventh hour developments in the Mexican situation to-day postponed delivery of the President's message and indicated that the Huerta Government, after all, might withdraw or modify its rejection of the proposals of the United States.

At the request of Senator Gamboa, which was based upon supplementary suggestions by Envoy Lind, President Wilson consented to postpone his address to Congress until 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

It was officially stated in that connection that in no case would the United States withdraw from the basic principles of its position, paramount among which is a consistent refusal to recognize Huerta.

At the White House Secretary Tumulty this forenoon gave out this statement: "Last night about midnight after the conference between the President and the Foreign Relations Committee of the two Houses, a despatch came from Mexico City in which Mr. Lind united with Senator Gamboa in requesting the President to postpone his address to the Congress until Wednesday in order to afford the authorities in Mexico City opportunity for further consideration of proposals by the United States in view of certain supplementary suggestions by

WOMAN FOLLOWS ALLEGED THUGS AND HAS PAIR ARRESTED

Singer, Who Was Robbed of Money and Gems Recently, Is Own Detective.

MAN RECOGNIZED LOOT.

Parties Accused Say They Are Travelling Salesmen, Asserting Some Mistake.

Mrs. Ethel Raymond, a singer at private entertainments, of No. 216 West Thirty-fourth street, caused the arrest of Henry Williams and Harry Gatens, young men of fine clothes and apparently refined manners. Mrs. Raymond accused them of being highway robbers. She said that she was tired of waiting for the police to catch them and had been acting as her own detective along Broadway between midnight and daylight for several weeks.

The police were notified by Mrs. Raymond July 10 that she had been robbed of $1,000 worth of jewelry and $7 in cash that morning in Forty-seventh street near Fifth avenue. She had been singing at a reception, she said, and was on her way home in a taxicab. The car broke down at Fifth avenue and Forty-seventh street. She was standing on the sidewalk, waiting for another cab which she could hail, when two men dressed like highway robbers approached and asked if they could help her. They told her there was a cab stand at Broadway and Forty-seventh street, and she accepted their offer to go there with her.

Mrs. Raymond recognized Gatens as a man she had met in a party at Jack's several weeks before and who had admired her jewelry. The other man had very prominent teeth and a deep scar on his forehead.

SEIZED, ROBBED AND ROLLED DOWN STAIRWAY.

Near Sixth avenue they alighted her, choked her, took her into a hallway, stripped her of her jewelry and money and then rolled her down a basement stairway and ran away.

Though she knew the name of Gatens, she said, and gave it to the police, with the names of some of his friends, who were in the party at Jack's, no trace of him could be found. Mrs. Raymond heard that he was in Ashbury Park and went to the resort. Finding there she went to Atlantic City. She returned yesterday and told her landlady that she was going to look for the robbers just one more night on Broadway.

In spite of Mrs. Way's objection that Broadway was no place for a young and fascinating brunette widow at night, she insisted on going out, beginning her vigil at about the time the theatres were closing.

At Broadway and Forty-seventh street this morning Mrs. Raymond was sure she saw them. She caught Williams by the arm and began screaming at the top of her voice. Gatens, running away, ran into the arms of Detective Rose of Inspector Dwyer's staff, who was running toward the group with Detective Waxman.

Williams broke away and ran, but Waxman overtook and tripped him. As Williams fell, the detective said, a gold watch and chain were thrown to the gutter and a bill folded dropped to the sidewalk. Andrew J. Carnahan had, an hour or two earlier, reported to the police that he had been attacked from behind, stunned and robbed of a gold watch and chain and a bill fold at Fifth street and Seventh avenue and the coincidence interested them.

ALLEGED LOOT RECOGNIZED BY VICTIM.

The watch and the other things were taken to Mr. Carnahan, who said they were his and promised to go to Yorkville Court to back up Mrs. Raymond's identification. The police commented on the two prisoners as altogether different from the run of rather shabby tough-looking men who are usually accused of such crimes.

Williams, who is twenty-four years old, asserted that he was a St. Louis salesman and that he had just come to this city from Atlantic City with Gatens, who said he was a Chicago salesman. Both young men said a terrible mistake had been made.

Maristate Green held the prisoners in $2,000 bail each for examination day after to-morrow.

WHITMAN TO DECLINE MURPHY'S SUPPORT IN FIGHT FOR MAYOR

Former Mayor Seth Low Telegraphs Him to Spurn It and Keep the Anti-Tammany Issue Clear and Unmistakable.

KOENIG TELLS REPUBLICANS TO STAND PAT ON FUSION.

If Gaynor Tide Seems Irresistible His Name Can Be Substituted at the Primaries.

At the request of Candidate McCall, Tammany expects to designate District-Attorney Whitman as its candidate for that office at tonight's committee meeting. Close friends of Mr. Whitman say that if Tammany does so, he will repudiate the endorsement and decline to permit his name to go on the Tiger ticket.

Former Mayor Low to-day made public the following telegram he had sent to District-Attorney Whitman:

If the Tammany nomination for District-Attorney is offered to you I hope you will spurn it as the unclean thing it is. You would not accept the Tammany nomination for Mayor. Do not accept it for District-Attorney. You would not accept a nomination from the System, but the System is only the application to the police service of Tammany morals and Tammany methods. Keep the anti-Tammany issue clear and unmistakable.

Two sensational stories concerning underground tricks in the political game were circulated to-day, each of them without authority or definite support. One was that Mayor Gaynor and Tammany "Boss" Murphy had a meeting last week somewhere on Long Island between St. James and Good Ground. The Mayor's threat to run on an independent ticket was a part of the scheme to disrupt Fusion. In return the Mayor can have Murphy's nomination for Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals.

The second story concerned the Hearst crack in the Fusion slate. The orders from Mr. Hearst for the Independence League to repudiate part of the Fusion ticket were alleged to be part of an understanding with Tammany. Color was said to be led to this deal by the fact that the League has named Tammany candidates for Supreme Court Judges on its own ticket.

Mr. Hearst's reward, according to the rumors, is to be an opportunity to run for popular election as United States Senator next year.

"WE WILL WIN, NO MATTER WHO RUNS," SAYS MURPHY.

Charles F. Murphy was at Tammany Hall preparing the slate for to-night's County Designating Committee. He was asked what he thought of the Hearst bid.

"I am not running the Independence League," he replied, with a grin. "Do you think Tammany will win regardless whether the Fusionists get together or not?"

"We will win," was the grim reply. "Even if Mayor Gaynor runs independently."

"It makes no difference who runs. We will win."

Mayor Gaynor again dodged the storm of political confusion to-day by staying away from town and seeking the isolation of Long Island. His absence and his silence left both his own supporters and the Fusionists in a state of uncertainty and able only to mark time.

The Gaynor League managers were ready to launch his independent candidacy for Mayor with a boom. They wait only the word from him, and that word is still unspoken. Fire Commissioner Johnson, who is to be the active political manager, arranged for headquarters in the Hotel Reardon, but the doors will not be opened until the philosopher of the City Hall says so.

R. Ross Appleton has petitions with thousands of names thereon lying in his desk, but they cannot be filed until the Mayor says so ahead. Editor Herman Ridder is eager to plunge into active work for the Mayor, but the oracle
